

IRC appoints a new Technology Global Practice Leader

November 29, 2019

Given the phenomenal growth in the global technology market, IRC Global Executive Search Partners is leveraging on its deep knowledge, expertise and understanding of the sector to enhance support to clients globally.

In the context, it has appointed Mr Gurdeep Hora as the new Global Leader of the Technology Practice Group. Currently, he is also the IRC Asia Pacific Regional Leader and the Managing Director of IRC India. He founded IRC India in 1989 and is amongst the pioneers of executive search in that country.

An Electronics Engineer & alumnus of the prestigious Indian Institute of Technology, he has a vast network and an inherent understanding of the dynamics of top technology leadership and immense experience of executive search across continents.

“While technology companies are experiencing huge disruptive challenges from emerging ideas and practices, we quietly help clients overcome issues through identifying leadership talent capable of managing and growing in this complex environment.

Coupled with our understanding of fundamental cultural dimensions, and vast exposure to synergic technology and industrial talent, we add a unique success factor to the organizations,” says Gurdeep S. Hora, Global Practice Leader. He adds: “To transform into Leaders of the Future, the leaders of today have to evolve a shared Vision and Purpose, be innovative, agile, collaborative and responsive. To thrive and deliver, they have to build a broad-based top talent pipeline and radically increase engagement with functional experts, employees, and consumers.”

“Gurdeep is a respected leader within our profession and has deep experience within the sector. He will bring much to this important practice group of IRC,” says Rohan Carr, President of the IRC Executive Board
